

Will you share a bottle of wine to benefit Georgians in their battle against cancer?

Georgia CORE is planning a wine pull at our 20th anniversary celebration to help Georgians at risk for – or in the fight against – cancer.

For $35, guests pull an unknown bottle of wine from a wall. All of the bottles are good quality – and in a few cases, the bottle is a very special wine.

If you'd like to donate one or more bottles from your inventory or cellar, we'd be incredibly grateful. Contact Katreena Davis at Georgia CORE (KDavis@GeorgiaCore.org) for details.

Here are a few essentials:

- ✦ The wine you donate* will be spotlighted – but guests will have to guess where it is on the wall!
- ✦ We're seeking wines with a retail value of $30 or more, as well as a few special bottles.
- ✦ Each wine donor will be recognized (and celebrated!) at the event.
- ✦ Proceeds from the wine pull go to a fund that helps more Georgians in need get education, screenings, treatment and support in their fight against cancer.

Georgia CORE works to increase innovative cancer research and improve cancer care in Georgia. Our 20th anniversary celebration is ▶

*The fair market value of your donated bottle, as determined by Wine-Searcher.com, is 100% tax deductible. We'll provide a written acknowledgement of your donated bottle(s) for tax reporting.

Bottles are red,
bottles are white.
Your bottle can help
Georgians win a fight.
